—Christmas one week from to-day.

—Prof. Severance's dancing school will be held to-morrow evening, in Apollo hall.

—Remember the loan art exhibition and oyster supper at the Congregational church to-morrow evening.

—Attend the oyster supper and loan art exhibition in the Congregational church to-morrow evening.

—The Odd Fellows and their families hold a very enjoyable social all to themselves in Odd Fellows hall last evening.

—Officer McGinley continues a wandering drunk out in the storm last night, and gave him shelter for the night in the county jail.

—Two weddings in the city this evening—one in the first ward, and one in the second. All of which will be "given away" to-morrow.

—Charles L. Davis, as Alvin Jozuly, will appear in the opera house on Thursday evening, December 27th, bringing one of the best bands and orchestras in the country.

—Don't forget the Christ church social at Apollo hall to-night. Anderson's band will furnish the music and a cordial invitation is extended. General admission 10 cents. Dancing ticket 50 cents.

—Arrangements are being made for holding an invitation party in Apollo hall on Tuesday evening next.

The Badger Quadrilla band has been engaged to furnish the music, and the party will undoubtedly be an enjoyable one.

—The report having been circulated that the tickets to the Christ church social would be "fifty cents," those in charge desire the report to be corrected. The admission will be ten cents, and dancing tickets fifty cents.

—All law and order citizens were out at an early hour this morning cleaning the "beautifol" from their sidewalks. Yet the majority of walks remain covered—in some cases drifts a foot deep or more—impeding the travel of pedestrians.

—In the circuit court the case of Horner Wilkins vs. Charles Lee for $1,000 damages for injuries received on being thrown out of his wagon, his horses being frightened by the defendant's dog, is still on trial. There are a large number of witnesses, and the case will probably not be finished before noon to-morrow.

—The snow storm which commenced here yesterday morning continued throughout the day, and until late in the evening. About three inches of light snow fell, drifting considerably in some places. The snow is too light to make sleighing good, nevertheless many people were out on runners to-day.

—Warren Collins was before the municipal court this afternoon, for examination on the charge of adultery. At the hour appointed for the examination the court room was packed full of eager spectators anxious to get all the facts in the case, but in this they were disappointed, as the examination was postponed until to-morrow.

—The Rock county Sunday school association, which held its semi-annual meeting at Shogren last week, was largely attended, and interesting from beginning to end. Two difficult problems were considered, "How to hold the other boys," and to secure the best teachers.

—Great interest was manifested in these topics, which were ably discussed.

—The Beloit Free Press—A stranger "picked" a ham from in front of Backeridge's meat market Saturday night, and to-day was sent to jail for twenty days for the act.

—Will Rott's grocery store was entered by thieves Saturday night and several boxes of cigars were stolen. Nothing else in the store was disturbed or taken, and it is not known how the thieves entered the store.

—The State Journal, of last evening says: "John White, head brakeman on freight No. 6—Conductor H. LeRoy, fell from the cars as the train was approaching Stoutland at about 10:30 this forenoon, and had both legs severed, several pairs of trucks passing over him. [He was taken to Stoutland, and will probably die. He is about twenty-two years of age, unmarried, lives at Waukesha, and has been upon the road several years. His fall was occasioned by the slippery condition of the roofs of the cars, owing to the snow.]

—Chas. E. Spencer, employed in the paint shop of the Janesville machine company, met with an accident yesterday morning by which he received several severe bruises about the body, and had a very narrow escape with his life. He was in the engine room warning, and upon starting to go out, the plank upon which he was standing tipped, and he fell into the gear wheel of the pump. The gears caught his clothing, and pulled him into rather close quarters; his father, Mr. J. A. Spencer, being close by, caught him, and the engine being stopped, he was rescued, but not until he was considerably bruised.

—The English sparrows, of which there are millions in this city, are great foragers, and at this season, especially when the snow covers the ground, the little birds are seen in large flocks. This forenoon a farmer stopped his sleigh in front of our office. In the box was considerable straw, and the farmer had bandied the team to the lutelet post, before the little sparrows had taken possession of the sleigh, and were working their way through the straw to discover what there was beneath. No one seems to disturb the little birds, and in consequence they are becoming quite domesticated and tame.

—If you desire to observe the comet, says the Pough du Lac Commonwealth, stop out of doors in the evening with a good open glass direct your gaze at the region just within the Milky Way, and on a straight line with Alpha Lyrae and Alpha Cygni, half way from either. A scientific exchange says we should not look for a very brilliant comet, but it will present a much finer appearance than the faint nebulous object upon which astronomers have been for months engaged, and which at first required a trained eye to detect at all. It is now about 116,000,000 miles from the earth and this distance is being diminished at the rate of 1,500,000 miles daily by the mutual movements of the earth and its celestial neighbor.

The Beloit Fire.

Reports were circulated on the streets last evening, that the Merrill & Houston iron works in Beloit had been destroyed by fire, and passengers coming up on the 8:40 train seemed to confirm the report. Mayor B. M. Malone, of Beloit, was in the city this afternoon, and from him we learn that the fire originated in, and was confined to, the foundry, which is located on the island; and was principally in the upper part of that building, the main buildings not being damaged. The fire was discovered about seven o'clock in the evening. In the foundry was stored a large number of putters, some of which were destroyed, but just to what extent Mayor Malone was unable to say. He was also unable to state the amount of loss. There was no insurance on the property, the last policy being cancelled at ten o'clock yesterday morning, there being a misunderstanding or dispute regarding rates. There was nothing said regarding the future of the works, which are at this time in the hands of Hon. R. J. Burdage, as assignee.

Speak Right To It.

"Have tried Thomas' Eucalypti Oil for colds and coughs, and find it the best remedy I have ever used in my family." Wm. Lay 610 Plymouth Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Death of C. F. Collins, of Beloit.

The sad news was telephoned from Beloit this morning that Mr. C. F. Collins died this morning, from exposure while at work during the fire in the Merrill & Houston iron works last evening. From Dr. Henry Palmer, who was called to Beloit in the night, and who returned to the city this forenoon, we learn that Mr. Collins overworked himself at the fire, and in the night was attacked with apoplexy, from which he expired at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Collins was, at the time of his death, secretary and treasurer of the Merrill & Houston iron works; he took up his residence in Beloit in 1850, and was for several years, until 1871, engaged in the drug business; in connection with his other business, he was frequently engaged in civil engineering; he was city clerk of Beloit for eight years, and served the city as alderman, and one term as mayor; for several years he was a member of the county board of supervisors, having twice been elected chairman, and was always one of the most active men in all interests for the benefit of the people.

The deceased was also a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, and as such was known throughout the state, having been grand commander of the Knights Templar of the state, as well as grand master, beside holding other prominent offices in the Grand lodge of that order. He was one of the live business men of Beloit, and his death at this time, will be deeply mourned by all who knew him, as well as by his numerous friends throughout the state.

We have not learned when the funeral will take place, but presume it will be under the charge of the Masonic order, of which due notice will be given.

Brown's Teething Cordial will cure your child of any and every disorder peculiar to children only.

Church Dedication.

The new Methodist Episcopal church at Albany, which has been built the past season, at a cost of upwards of three thousand dollars, will be dedicated on Sunday, December 23d, 1883. Rev. Dr. Nimble, president of the Illinois Biblical institute, assisted by the presiding officer and others, will officiate. The society will dedicate their new house of worship under very favorable circumstances, the building having been completed and furnished, and all paid for with the exception of about eight hundred dollars, which is a very small amount for the society in that line village.

The week, work, and drayage should take Colver's Liquid Bark Tonic. No other. Of druggists.

Fun on the Beloit.

Which will be presented to the amusement lovers of this city at the opera house on Friday evening, has been drawing large audiences in the eastern cities for a long time, and is highly spoken of by press and public. The New York News, of Sept. 20th, gives the company this word off:

"Fun on the Beloit," now in its fourth year, and playing in England as well as here, is drawing big houses at the People's theatre. This musical, comical oddity, as it is called on the bills, is quite familiar to New York, but in this case it is presented by Rood's Travelling company, and we heard nothing in saying that it is more entertaining as now given than ever before.

The witty comedies are given with all the old sparkle and wit and fancy, and the songs and sayings of the Widow O'Brien convince the audience with laughter. The acting of Mr. Edwin Carroll, as the Widow is of a broad, farcical character, and yet is not altogether imprudent, so that the fun does not fall on that score. The Widow's two daughters, Dora, played by Miss Rose Dand, and Nora, by Miss Lulu Evans—are in capital hands, these young ladies being as pleasing a pair of demurettes as are now to be seen on the stage.

The American stage. Miss Marion Pike as Bella, a negro servant, is very amusing. Mr. Augustus Bruno as Count Montegio, the Italian music teacher, astonishes by his very clever and humorous assumption of the part, while his singing, warbling and burlesque acting are even more amusing than of old. The singing in what is termed the musical melange in act second is most pleasing. The scene taken from the "Ladies of Lyons," played by Miss Rose Dand and Mr. Edwin Carroll, Jr., is very laughing. Miss Marion Pike's "Colored Nightingale" and Miss Rose Dand's "Once upon a time" each get a rousing encore nightly. For a comical story, "That Cursed Tale," told by Mr. George Reynolds, makes the cake. The singing of "The Gathering of the Clouds" and "Charleston Blues," with the usual effort entitled "The Turkish Revolt," by the entire company, fairly brings down the house.

The burlesque skits "The Privateer" with Mr. Bruno as Count De Lunatic, and Miss Lulu Evans as Leonora, is a splendidly. In fact, the whole entertainment, when not sweetly musical, is a laugh, and one which even the most fastidious enjoy.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered at zero. Clear with west wind. At one o'clock, p. m. the register was 8 degrees above zero. Clear, with northwest wind.

DOUBLE WEDDING.

GREEN—HANSON—DAVIS—HANSON.

On Wednesday, December 12th, an interesting social event took place at the residence of Mrs. Martha E. Hanson, of Emerald Grove, in the marriage of her two daughters—Miss Ella A. Hanson to Mr. Myron F. Green, of Fulton, and Miss Ida E. Hanson to Evan Davis, of Milton. A large number of invitations were issued and about one hundred guests were present. Precisely at twelve o'clock Miss Ella Davis, sister of one of the grooms, struck up the wedding march, and the two couples entered the north parlor, when they were specially united in the bonds of holy matrimony, by Rev. D. B. Jackson, one ceremony being sufficient for both couples. Rev. F. Miller, of Kenosha, was present and assisted in the ceremony. Heartily congratulations followed and then the wedding breakfast was served. The presents were numerous and valuable, many of them were duplicates for each bride. The nuptial couples took no bridal tour, but repaired each to the respective home of the newly made husband.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY DAWSON.

We are called upon to announce that a sad bereavement has fallen upon Mr. Michael Dawson, the well known cattle dealer, by the death of his wife, which occurred this morning at his home on Cherry street at 9 o'clock. Though Mrs. Dawson had been in feeble health for some time, but few of her most intimate friends thought that death was so near. Fortified by the last rites of the Catholic church of which she was a faithful member, surrounded by a devoted husband and four children, and many sympathizing friends, she yielded her spirit to that God whom she loved and served so well. The funeral will take place from St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, when solemn high mass will be offered for the repose of her soul.

Lost Path in Pharmacy.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scott's Emulsion, or Scott's Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood, when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effective than any other written and carefully prepared prescriptions. Take SCOTT'S EMULSION and LIVER SYRUP for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all the leading professional men.

A Loan Art Exhibition.

The young ladies of the Congregational church are arranging for a loan art exhibition in the church to-morrow evening, which will be one of the finest art displays of the season. In connection with this they will hold a Christmas sale in the church parlors. During the evening oysters, coffee and doughnuts will be served to the public. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged. It is the intention of the ladies to make the art exhibition, the finest ever given in this city, and will be well worth the patronage of the public.

An Important Railway Excursion.

Messrs. Campbell & Stevens, whose enterprise never laps, are local agents for the great excursion over the Missouri Pacific and Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railways, which will leave Chicago on the 8th of January. This excursion, to Arkansas and Texas, and points in that direction, will surpass anything of the kind ever before organized in this country. It will visit these places in Texas, Abilene, Balm, Big Springs, Austin, Colorado, Taylor, Ft. Worth, Waco, Wichita, and El Paso. The train will be composed of superb Pullman cars—day coaches and sleepers—and altogether it will be the finest excursion train which any road can make up.

Messrs. Campbell & Stevens will sell tickets in Janesville, and the price with all other information can be had by calling upon them, or addressing them through the mails.

How to get well of a cold or cough.

Take Down's Elixir, it is warranted to cure. Sold by Stearns & Baker.

Hilton.

—It becomes our pleasant duty to note the marriage of our friend and fellow citizen, Evan Davis to Miss Ida E. Hanson, of Emerald Grove, the ceremony taking place on the 12th inst., at the residence of the bride's mother. The happy twin very sensibly dispensed with any wedding journey and came to their future home in our village after the wedding.

They are a welcome addition to our social circle, and it is to be hoped that their happy and happy future will not be owing to a lack of good wishes on the part of their numerous friends here and elsewhere.

—W. S. Alexander, of St. Paul, was in town last Saturday.

—G. W. Sackman and wife, of Mason City, Iowa, made Mrs. Alexander and family a brief call Saturday while on their way east. Mr. Sackman is superintendent of the I. and D. Division of the St. Paul road and despite the heavy responsibilities resting on his shoulders, he was young almost as he did in our boyhood days when he used to sing out "all aboard" on the Prairie du Chien run.

—W. W. Clarke has just purchased a fine music box playing fine tunes and musicians have an opportunity of hearing it quite often.

—The lecture by Prof. Butler "On the Yellowstone Park," at college chapel on the evening of the 12th inst., under the auspices of the A. D. Association, was well attended and liberally patronized at it should have been. Those who heard the lecture expressed themselves as much pleased.

—Mrs. Winona, of Whitewater, was in town last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Coburn.

McLay showed the light of his smiling countenance here last week. Everybody was mighty glad to see him.

—Put your holiday goods at Clerk's. Three below zero Monday morning, the second line this winter that the mercury has been below zero.

—The number of students is increasing from week to week. The number now is one hundred and seventy-five, and still they come.

—Rev. B. Wilson, of Whitewater, occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church Sunday morning in exchange with Rev. W. H. Hurlinger.

A BRILLIANT ENTERTAINMENT.

On the eve of November 22, Miss Clara M. Dunn, the gifted elocutionist, and Professor Chas. E. Evans, the accomplished blind violinist gave a performance of their enjoyable entertainment, and although the audience was not large it fully enjoyed and duly appreciated the high order of the dramatic readings, impersonations and violin solos. Her graceful and animated reading of Miss Dunn exceeded the expectations of the audience. Her appearance on the stage was graceful and free from much of that rigidity that often characterizes some of the professional elocutionists. Her entire voice and her advantage over many professional readers and impersonators. Her readings of "The Song of the Sea" and "The Song of the Sea" were grand and impressive, so that the heart of the hearer would naturally call for a repetition.

Of Professor Chas. E. Evans' ability, as a musical artist we need say nothing, for his accomplishments in that direction are too well known in this vicinity.

That the heart of the hearer would give his youth solos is truly astonishing. Among the many pieces executed by Mr. Evans we cannot refrain from mentioning "Sweet Home, Bitter Sweet and Long Ago," as having been rendered in a rich and stirring style. Mr. Evans has been in this company again. Their entertainments are worthy of patronage. —Janesville Enterprise.

Why They Call Him "Old Man."

"Yes, that's really so," said Jenkins, "my hair is turning gray and falling out before its time. Use something? I would, but most hair restorers are dangerous." "Frag," answered his friend, "but Parker's Hair Restorer is as harmless as it is effective. I've tried it, and know. Give the Daisies a show and the boys will soon stop calling you 'Old Man Jenkins'."

It never fails to restore the original color to gray or faded hair. Richly perfumed, an elegant dressing.

Success of a Song Writer.

(New York World.)

"By the end of next June," said William J. Hamilton, the comedian, to a World reporter, "over 200,000 copies of my 'Peck-a-Boo' song will have been sold. It belongs to the class we term 'crash' songs, written in a catchy way to become popular, as it deals with children, home and the fireside. I wrote 'Peck-a-Boo' five years ago, and first used it to help along a comic opera entitled 'The West Point Cadet.' I saw at once it had the proper surroundings, and so determined to lay it out by the right time came to use it in the morning. 'Peck-a-Boo' was introduced. 'Peck-a-Boo' into the home scene of the last act, and it immediately became popular. My first successful song was the 'Jim Fisk Song'—'Ho Never Went Back on the Fisk'—I set up right at it, but had it finished in the morning. 'Peck-a-Boo' on Kilmory has been a success, though not largely in a financial sense. The song goes best that relate to the friends and have bright glimpses of home revealed in them. For the first time I have sold over 200,000; so that 'Grandfather's Clock' and 'Silver Threads Among the Gold' sold as high as $20,000, and they are still selling."

Rob Ingelsworth's Mail.

(Washington Post.)

It is a noteworthy fact that an American citizen who is fortunate enough to acquire anything like notoriety is certain to be surrounded by floods of letters. Out of the number received that is hardly one that has the slightest interest or value. Col. Ingelsworth receives every day enough letters in the way of advice, suggestion and argument to make the contents of a junkbox. I was in his office not long ago when he received a brief note from an Ohio man covering ninety closely written pages of foolscap, pasted end to end, so as to make a long roll. The writer desired to have a little friendly argument with the colonel and his letter was the first installment.

An Outlines Outline.

Lord Salisbury, writing in The Spectator Country, says that the condition of the lower classes in England today is almost exactly parallel with that of the French democracy previous to the revolution. "This is the story of a Tory leader, and, taken in conjunction with the popular manifestations on last night's day, looks somewhat ominous as regards the political stability of Great Britain."
